DETAILED ACTION

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

It does not state that the person making the oath or declaration acknowledges the duty to disclose to the Office all information known to the person to be material to patentability as defined in 37 CFR 1.56.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. This claim is an omnibus type claim.

Double Patenting

Applicant is advised that should claim 1 be found allowable, claims 11-13 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. Claims 11-13 effectively set forth the same structure as claim 1 since no additional structural details are recited. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 9, 11, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kater (3,993,049). The reference discloses a fabric electrode arrangement including a fabric patch 36 which may be conductive (column 5, line 51 – column 6, line 21) and substantially impermeable member, base 24 of connector 12, on the surface of the patch.

Claims 1-4, 8, 9, 11, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Sem-Jacobsen (3,954,100). The reference discloses a fabric electrode arrangement including a fabric patch 18 (column 3, line 35+) and conductive, substantially impermeable members (22,24) on the surface of the patch. The actual material of the members 22,24 is metal that is impermeable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kater (3,993,049) in view of Bogusiewicz et al (5,427,096). Kater discloses the basic electrode except for the material being silicone rubber with carbon. Such a material for connectors is well known as disclosed by Bogusiewicz et al at column 3, lines 39-65. Given this teaching, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to substitute such a connector Kater since the result would be predictable. The particular resistivity is deemed to be inherent in the material.

Claims 10 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sem-Jacobsen (3,954,100) in view of Reho et al (2004/0138546). Sem-Jacobsen discloses the basic electrode but lacks the integration of it into a garment. Such a feature is disclosed by Reho et al in Figures 2 and 3. Given this teaching, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to integrate the electrode in a garment to facilitate placement on the body.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
